

9 cell tapered

PRECISION

fusion

The Fusion is Precision's entry range 9 cell elliptical main. This canopy has been developed for the skydiver who wants a little more kick and excitement than might be found in a 7 cell, but is still relatively docile when compared to our upper end 9 cell design, the Nitron.

Wing loading is truly the key to the flight performance envelope of the Fusion. Depending on the wing loading, the flight characteristics of the Fusion will grow from being docile and tame at the low end to exciting and zippy on the upper end, but the Fusion will always remember who is boss, and respond accordingly.

The Fusion could serve a first time buyer very well for a thousand jumps, and with HMA suspension line standard rigging, there will be little worry about having to change out the lineset between seasons.

Call for our current low prices!

This high-lift low-drag airfoil will always get you back from those questionable spots (or at least get you closer to the dz than those other guys).

For the more experienced skydivers flying at higher wing loadings, the Fusion can still kick up enough attitude to satisfy even those old timers who used to fly the blade courses with their little pocket rockets.

The Fusion is available in 9 sizes, ranging from 98 to 230 square feet.
