Xaos-27

Competitive, world class skydivers have proven that the Xaos-27 Cross-Braced Tri-Cell wing brings home the gold. It's not just a parachute; it is an adrenaline pump. Whether you jump out of perfectly good airplanes for the sole purpose of experiencing extremely competitive canopy flight, sweet and consistent metered openings, or just red hot swoop landings, this is precisely where you want to be.

The biggest difference in the Xaos-27 and other 27 cell cross braced canopies is that you can actually use the Xaos-27 as an everyday skydiving canopy, even for head down camera work!

No matter what your skydiving style, if you enjoy the idea of ending your skydive with a radical canopy flight negotiating your flight path through an extreme blade course, or skimming across the water for more than the length of a football field, then you definitely want to check out this ride!

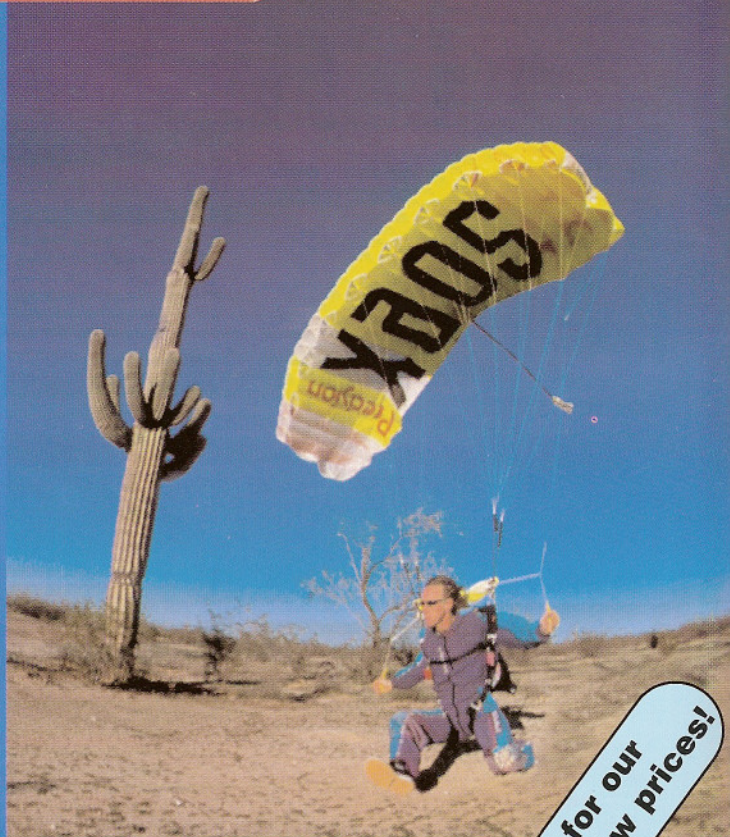

In the competitive world of swoop landing machines, the Xaos-27 reigns as king-daddy of them all.

This canopy has been in continual development since 1998, and continues to get better, year after year. The Xaos-27 is the culmination of everything we have refined in cross-brace technology.

All Xaos-27 canopies are hand fabricated in the USA utilizing DuPont Solar Max fabric for extreme performance, and High Modulus Aramid continuous lines for lowest drag and high durability.

The Xaos-27 is available in stock or custom sizes ranging from 58 to 118 square feet.

Maximum recommended wing loading is 2.5 lbs per square foot.
